Kashima Attractions

@Tideland Exchange Center: The tidal flat at Hizen Kashima Tidal Flat is impressive! You can also learn about the ecosystem and environment of the tidal flat from the curator. You can also buy and eat local specialties at the adjacent Roadside Station Kashima, a spot that will inspire you on a cellular level.

@Tazo Pickles: A well-established pickle shop that has been in business for more than 100 years since the early Meiji era, we had the opportunity to experience making Nara pickling using Sakagura sake lees from Kashima under the guidance of Mr. Tazo, who has been in the business for more than 60 years. There were also many other kinds of pickles, all of which looked delicious.

@Yutoku Inari Shrine: one of the three major Inari shrines in Japan and a major tourist attraction in Kashima, attracting many visitors every year. Representatives from Saga University performed a dedication of Mikagura, a traditional Japanese Shinto music and dance. 300 years old, the red gate is very elegant. The view from the inner sanctuary is unforgettable!

@Sachihime Brewery: You can feel the traditional fermentation technique and compare the sake. Minors can enjoy amazake, and even those who are not fond of amazake will find it delicious! Even those who are not fond of amazake said it was delicious! They also carry cosmetics made from sake lees, so if you're interested in beauty, pay attention!

@Baba Brewery: Mr. Baba, the representative of the brewery, explained the inside of the brewery. We were overwhelmed by the tanks of sake stored there, which were more than the height of a student! This sake brewery also sells sake with the mash left on.

@Hizen Hamashuku: With a history dating back to the Kamakura and Muromachi periods, Hizen Hamashuku prospered as a port town and inn town overlooking the Ariake Sea from middle age. With its samurai residences and historic sake breweries, you will feel as if you have slipped back in time to that era. It was a wonderful town even from a student's point of view.
